Cerville had gone into printing name cards with a friend. At first, they used a toy printing press. Soon they began printing handbills for stores. Cerville then built a larger printing press.

Meanwhile Wilbur was badly hurt in a hockey game. For months he had to stay in bed (never did finish high school)

When Brattle was a Senior in High School William became his partner in the printing shop. In their spare time, the brothers built & repaired bicycles. They finally sold the printing shop. The next morning they could afford buying machinery for about the right & direction of trade. Some men had made gliders. By building for sale to test their idea, finally they planned to accompany them glider (after 4 yrs) just before they flew it. One of them went to the U.S. to collect money! they a very place to land.
